The man who relives his Yesterdays, though he may continue to exist, has ceased to live * * * And he who lives only for Tomorrow, because the near-at-hand obstructs his view of the dimness ahead, has never begun to live * * * But he who lives for Today, grasping life as it passes and squeezing from it the last drop of happiness, is the man who has really learned to live * * * Therefore * * we dedicate this book, the 1934 Yucca, to

THE PRESENT

EXPLANATION

Life on a college campus is like the twinklings of the multicolored lights of a midway * * * with its concessions and its sideshows * * * its exhibits and its box offices * * * where the fullness of life is attained only by the person who takes what Today may bring, unspoiled by regret for dead Yesterday or foreboding of unborn Tomorrow * * * Because of this likeness, we have chosen as the motif of this volume

FOR E W O R D

Yesterday is but Today's memory * * * and Tomorrow is Today's dream * * *
The seasoned reflections of the Past and the tempered anticipations of the

ODORS OF RARE PERFUMES:
HALF-FORGOTTEN MEM'RIES OF THE DEAD PAST.

FOOTBALL

DAVE MAGGARD — 215-pound full-back, and second varsity letter man, has pulled the Eagles out of many tight spots with his dependable punts. Maggard is a good line backer, and is fast and powerful. Though his 95-yard run in the T. C. U. game was called back, it will go down in Teachers College history as evidence of real football.

BENGE DANIELS — 170-pound end, received his first varsity letter this year. Though he was new on the team, he quite easily proved himself to be a steady and hard-fighting team-mate, consistent in his offense and defense. On defense he was recognized as a danger signal, and very few yards were ever gained over him.

One hundred and ninety pounds of muscle and brawn, plus speed and plenty of punch in his charge, brought JAMES CATE, tackle, his second varsity letter and the reputation of being one of the best tackles in the conference. It is with regret that the Eagles see Cate leave them this year.

WINLON KNOWLES—180-pound center, in his second year on the varsity squad, has been one of the best the Eagles have ever had. Making few bad passes, and being hard to handle on defense, he has been greatly feared by his opponents. His value on pass defense is outstanding, and should place him as the best center in the conference next year.

WELDON TAYLOR—earning his first varsity letter, proved himself to be one of the best blockers on the squad. Weighing 195 pounds, few opponents were found who could handle him. His outstanding work in the Sam Houston game will be remembered and should help him to be selected as one of the best tackles in the conference.

TROY MULLENS — 180-pound end, proved his worth to his team in both defense and offense. He was one of the fastest men on the squad and was usually the first man down on punts, and could be depended upon as a pass catcher. Mullens received his second varsity letter this season.

Although the '33 season was GAYLE SEBASTIAN's first year to letter on the varsity team, the Eagles will lose him next year because of graduation. He was a fast and shifty 150-pounder, who could always be depended upon in a pinch, and his departure marks the passing of a good half-back.

JACK VAUGHAN—half-back during his third letter year on the varsity, served as captain of the '33 team. His 175 pounds, and his ability as a punter, made him one of the most valuable blockers of the conference. Vaughan was speedy and shifty, and always kept his opponents wondering what would come next.

ATKINS GAY—185-pound lineman, is another first varsity letter senior who will not be back on the squad next year, but who will be remembered as a dependable tackle. Gay was not only one of the most consistent men on the squad, but was also extremely hard to handle on defense and was a good blocker on offense.

PAUL PEARSON—third varsity letter man, played his final season with the Eagles this year as guard, and was one of the best men on the squad. He was a good blocker and, on defense, was feared by all his opponents. Pearson's consistent playing caused him to be picked as guard on the second all-conference team.

CHARLES COX — 170 - pound guard, playing his second year on the varsity team, was undoubtedly one of the strongest players the team had. His touchdown, after a 43-yard run with an intercepted pass, in the S. M. U. game will not be forgotten. The fact that he is captain-elect, was placed on the all-conference squad, and was chosen as the outstanding linesman in the conference shows his worth to the Siscomen.

TERRELL YARBROUGH — the speedy halfback, will be playing his third season for the Eagles next year. Yarbrough can always be depended upon for the needed yards in tight places. He is consistent on defense and offense and, with two varsity letter years behind him, shows all promise of having his best season slated for next year.

JACK ELDER—finished his third season with the Eagles heavily handicapped by a broken leg. His passes were as straight and swift as a bullet. In spite of his leg, he was an excellent broken-field runner and a jam-up defensive player. This 175-pounder could have had both legs broken and still have been a good quarterback.

ALBERT WIRZ—playing his third varsity letter season during his senior year, has been one of the best ends in the conference. Long and lanky, shifty and speedy, his strong point was pass-snatching and running for yard after yard down the field. Wirz's ability has caused him to be placed on several all-conference teams.

HOMER PEGRAM, speedy little quarter-back from Denton High, completed his first year with the Eagles. His outstanding work this season was in the Stephen F. Austin game. Pegram is not only shifty and elusive, but is also a good passer and punter, and much will be expected of him during his next two seasons with the Sisco-men.

JAMES NICHOLS—powerful Eagle tackle, made the all-conference team for the second successive year. Weighing well over 200 pounds, he was a tower of strength on defense. His ability to break up opposing teams caused him to be picked for a place on the mythical team.

EUGENE WILSON—full-back, has completed his third and final season with the Eagles. He was an all-round back, with plenty of speed and punch in his drives. Wilson turned in a creditable performance on his offense and defense, and, being hard to get off his feet, was always a threat while in the game.

FRANCIS REEVES began his first season with the Sisco-men playing tackle, but was later switched to end, where he proved himself to be a tower of strength on defense. His entire first season was a successful one, but he turned in his best performance in the game against Southwestern.

WILLARD SUTTON—guard, is another first season man who should be of great value to the Eagles during the next two years. Sutton was one of the hardest men in the club to take out of play. During the latter part of the season this stocky 185-pounder proved that his best years were immediately ahead of him.

DALLAS RISH—halfback, and one of the biggest men on the squad, has been a tower of strength in any phase of the play. Rish, in completing his third varsity year, was one of the best blockers on the squad, and played his best game of the '33 season against Southwestern.

CECIL NABORS—playing his first season as end, showed promising threats for the years to come. When his 200 pounds of muscle were unfolded to a height of six and one-half feet, and his arms were raised for a catch, he was well started for a long gain. He is hard to get off his feet and will be a bear for next year.

A. B. ROGERS—being a senior, used all his soap this season. His ability to diagnose plays, and his value as a guard, made him an important cog in the Eagle machine. Rogers was strong on offense, and was stronger on defense. He will be missed next year.

BASKET BALL

JOHN D. SMYERS, CAPTAIN, FORWARD.

Captain Smyers was a brilliant player, in that he not only kept his opponents guessing as to his next move, but he also inspired his team to do their best in each game. Next year's team will miss his natural cage ability, for such a dependable player will be hard to replace. Smyers received honorable mention on the All-Conference team.

ALBERT ZERETZKE, FORWARD

As the "hot-shot" of the team, Zeretzke ran true to form and chalked up enough points to make him the high point man of the team. His defensive game was also excellent, but the record of over a hundred points will be hard to beat by any one who tries to carry on in the vacancy that his graduation will cause. Several All-Conference teams chose Zeretzke as their forward.

E. C. DITTRICH, FORWARD

As a first year varsity man, Dittrich really made a name for himself. He had the ability to ring the basket from nearly any position on the court. His long ranginess made it easy to cover his opponent, and snatch the ball when it came anywhere near his vicinity. As a beginner, he shows every promise for next year, and should increase in value to the team with each year's experience.

ATKINS GAY, GUARD

Gay's consistent dependability will be missed from the team next year. His habit of always being at the right place at the right time is enough to make him a valuable asset to any team. He not only broke up the passes of the other team, but he could carry the ball right down to his own territory with no hesitation. He then fell back to his position as guard, and left the point to be made by some of the more flashy members of the team.

ALVIN DOBBINS, GUARD

As the best ball hustler on the squad, Dobbins was outstanding. His dependable eye for the basket, and his never failing ability to cover his opponent, classed him among the best on both offensive and defensive playing. As this is his third and last year with the Eagles, he will be missed next year. His fight and determination won him a place as guard on the Second All-Conference team.

BASKET BALL

CHARLIE COX, GUARD

Cox was one of the best floor men that the team had. As this was his first varsity letter, the next two years should make him into a smooth, accurate player who will prove invaluable to his teammates. His steady, consistent dribbling carried the ball out of the enemies' territory many times, and his passing placed the ball in an easy scoring position.

ROBERT GOLLIDAY, CENTER

As a Senior, Golliday has played his last year for the green and white. His height, his eye for the basket, and his natural ability made him an asset to the team. His skill did not stop with his ability to get the tip-off when the ball was tossed up, but he could have easily played second for any of the forwards.

LORENZO JOHNS, CENTER

As a first year man, Johns proved his worth to the team. His height could be depended on to get him out of any tight place that the opposition might place him in, and his ability to ring shots should place him as one of the best centers in the Conference next year.

WILL O. HENDERSON, FORWARD

Henderson showed more improvement as the season advanced than did any other man on the squad. This should speak well for next season's team, as this is his first year to play varsity basket ball. A good dribbler, with fast, clever foot work is a hard combination to beat, and Henderson possessed both.

CECIL NABORS, GUARD

As the giant of the team, Nabors handled himself with such ease and dexterity that the invading squad had an enemy who was hard to handle. His specialty was grabbing the re-bounce from the backstop, and sending it back for a crisp-shot tally. It will be a hard job to fill the large gap that Nabors will leave in next year's team.

TRACK

Retaining their Lone Star Conference crown in San Marcos Coach Charles Sportsman's 1933 Eagle track team marked finish to what was on the whole a very successful season. North Texas track competition has been an up and down affair; however, winning when put to the real test in South Texas, this year's cinder path crew will go down in the sport annals of the college with a record that merits congratulations.

At the Fat Stock Show, the first meet of the season for the locals, the Eagles were runners-up to Abilene Christian College in the college division. J. D. Moore sounded, literally, a warning to runners of the tall timber that day when he ran the race in the extraordinarily good early season time of 15 flat. Big Moore also placed in the weights and high jump on the same day to capture high point honors in his division. Although they were unable to take first honors at any of the relay meets Sportsman's charges were always in the running, taking their share of the points. Besides the Stock Show meet, members of the squad competed in the Louisiana Relays and an invitation meet in San Antonio marking up creditable records at both places. Texas Christian University nosed out the Eagles on two occasions during the season in colorful dual meets, while the only other Southwestern Conference foe to meet the Eagles, Southern Methodist, was turned back by an impressive score late in the season. The Eagle thinly-clads split the last two dual meets of the season, losing to A. C. C. and winning over their bitter rivals, the Commerce Lions.

Annexing five first places and piling up a score of $53\frac{1}{2}$ points in the face of stiff competition in the annual Lone Star Conference meet in San Marcos the Eagles retained their laurels as cinder path champions. Despite bad weather conditions including a strong wind, six new Lone Star records were set at San Marcos. Moore flung the discus 136 feet and four inches to hang up a new mark in this event, while the Eagle sprint relay team composed of Malone, Mullins, Wright, and Hayes ran their event in 43:9 for a conference record, since that was the event's first conference appearance. Hayes ran the century in 10 flat to take that event, and Henry Culpepper surprised fans by repeating year before last's high hurdle race and winning over Moore, his teammate. The Eagles fifth first place came as a result of the mile relay race which was captured by Mullins, Culpepper, Hayes, and Wright.

CROSS-COUNTRY

The Eagles defeated the Commerce Lions for the 1933 Lone Star Conference Cross Country crown by a score of 27 to 28. Last year the Eagles lost the conference run to Commerce by the same score. This is the fourth year that the conference championship has been decided by one point. In 1929, the Eagles won the T. I. A. A. crown, then losing to A. C. C. in 1930 by one point. In 1931, the Eagles again lost to A. C. C. by one point, then losing to Commerce in 1932 by a score of 27-28, and reversing the score on the Lions this year.

November 11, Housewright set a record on the Denton course in a dual meet with Commerce, making the 3.2 miles in 16 minutes and 39 seconds. Conlee, a sophomore thinly-clad, finished second in this meet. In the conference run, at Commerce, Conlee set a record on that course, making the three and a quarter mile run in 17 minutes and 7 seconds, with Housewright running a close second. The other runners were a full quarter mile behind the two Eagles.

The sophomore men on the squad more than fulfilled Captain Housewright's expectations by running a good race and finishing well toward the front. Bright prospects for a championship squad in 1934 are assured by the return of all of the men, with the exception of Housewright and Estes.

Wilson Tunnel, a junior in the College, was elected captain of the squad to fill the place to be left vacant by Housewright.

Climaxing one of the best seasons ever to be enjoyed by an Eagle harrier team, the present edition of the thinly-clads, led by Captain Housewright and Conlee downed the Commerce Lions for the first championship flag this college has won in the sport since the fall of 1929.

Although there were few men out for the sport this season, some of the best talent ever seen on the local cinder path was present. In Housewright, captain, was found one of the most consistent runners in the conference. Although this was only his second year as a varsity man, he showed up well and was able to set a new course record against the Lions here Armistice Day. This is his last season with this college, as he takes his degree in the spring. Estes, also running his last season was a good man against all the opposition.

TENNIS

When Coach Terrence Myracle issued the first call for the 1933 tennis squad a large number of contestants entered the field for the tryouts. Of this group, Elliott Smith was the lone letterman from the 1932 championship squad. After the first weeks of workouts, selections for the team were made and the following men were selected: Captain Elliott Smith, Shelby Phillips, Carver Moore, Berry Langford, and James Spurlock.

During the season the Eagle netters met and defeated some of the outstanding net artists of North and East Texas. In the conference meet held at Huntsville Coach Myracle's men made a determined stand for the championship but were turned back during the final doubles match when the Smith-Moore combination, conference favorites, were upset by Prim and Tra-week of Commerce, 6-4, 9-7, 2-6, 3-6, 7-5. White of Trinity won the singles crown. Final points for the meet were as follows: Commerce, 21; Denton, 15; Trinity, 15; Sam Houston, 12; Nacogdoches, 0; San Marcos, 0.

Captain Smith, ranking Eagle performer, was a steady and dependable man all season, defeating consistently the best court men in the conference. During his three years on the tennis team he developed into one of the best court generals the school has produced.

Carver Moore, an experienced stroker, flashed at times a brand of tennis that was unbeatable. He was a splendid player and a dangerous singles opponent.

Phillips, playing his first year on the varsity, after having seen lots of action during his freshman year under Myracle, developed into a much feared singles opponent. His hard service and steady ground strokes carried him to victory in many matches.

Langford and Spurlock were two men who saw much action during the season. Langford used a smashing game that was hard to cope with. Spurlock was more adept at doubles and in this department saw much service.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

The Woman's Athletic Association has as its purpose the development of women's athletics as a means of promoting physical efficiency, recreation, sportsmanship, leadership, and a feeling of keen, friendly rivalry among the women of the college.

Miss Beulah Harriss founded this organization in North Texas State Teachers College in 1924, but only a small group of girls participated in the activities of the club during that year. During the past ten years, however, the club has grown until it is now the largest organization on the campus. The membership annually passes the three-hundred mark.

Among the sports offered by the W. A. A. are swimming, roller-skating, tumbling, tennis, archery, and dancing. In the fall term archery, dancing, hiking, tennis, and tumbling are offered.

Each year awards are given to those members who fulfill specific requirements in the W. A. A. In the past, the awards have been letters, and a blanket to those having a sufficient number of points. Now each member gets a bracelet, the links of which identify her with that particular sport in which she participated.

The Avesta offers a performance but four times during the carnival's stay, but each performance contributes to the literary atmosphere of the Big Show.

In this tent perform the jugglers of the short story, the lion tamers of the essay, and the snake charmers of poetry.

The magazine aims to promote a show that will not end when the curtain falls.

KATHERINE MAURICE

Pretty, slender, red-head. Courts Foster Garrison when she isn't doing an experiment in chemistry. Member of Girls Forum, Green Jackets, and Chemistry Club.

VIRGINIA BEAVERS

"Stuzy" to those people who know her well. Helps Floyd Graham make posters and forgets to put them up. Always laughing. Can always go you one better.

BERNARD HELTON

Knows his stage technique. Can act. Forgets dates with girls. Smokes Camels, but any other kind will do if that's what you happen to have.

CHARLES COX

Made the touchdown that won the S. M. U. game. Everybody knows who he is, but few know him. "Still water" type. Has the S. A. in a big way.

VIRGINIA HALE

Mary Willis' room-mate. Swell girl, just the same. Dark complexion. Venus de Milo figure. Swims. Member of C. L. C. Likes curly-headed men.

ELMER COX

Blonde. Married. Editor of the Fall edition of the Avesta. Secretary to the Dean of Men. Takes bridge seriously. Has a two-year-old baby and a Studebaker coupe.

BETTY LACEWELL

Campus Chat reporter. Has a come-hither look. So much charm that most of the boys go crazy about her. Latest victims: Richard Grammar and Wiley Housewright.

WALTER MERRIMAN

Sings love songs. The women love his singing. And him. Shows promise as a sports writer. Crouch's room-mate. Trojan. Curly hair.

LEROY CROUCH

Has a yen for hamburgers around midnight. Likes girls, too. President of Sophomore class. Assistant yell-leader. Trying to learn to smoke.

DIXIE OVERTON

Has baby blue eyes. Appealingly sweet. Always ready to help anybody. Belongs to the Mary Ardens and the Elementary Council. Loves to teach the tiny tots. Looks like her daddy.

JOHNNY STOVALL

Track man. Fast. Dark-parlor specialty. Frosh football captain. Lots of fun on a party. Good sport.

MARGARETTE GARRISON

Hails from the Valley. Mercedes, to be exact. Promising young journalist. Matches pennies. Strong on Charles Henderson at present.

SAM ADKINS

Called "Tim" for short. Dreamy eyes. Peppy personality. Phys. Ed. major and Art minor, or vice versa. Can't make up his mind. Wotta combination, and wotta boy!

CLARICE BARTON

A blond who really is a sure 'nuff blonde. Has naturally rosy cheeks. Treasurer of Freshman class. Knows her shorthand.

CHARLES HENDERSON

Dramatic Club. Actor de luxe. Smokes Camels. Jolly. What ho! Present address: Denton. Home town: same.

MILDRED GRAHAM

Scatter-brained but terribly clever. Good dancer. Also good bridge player. One of the prettiest freshman girls on the campus. 'Nuff said.

WADDY KELLEY

Cousin of Prexy Tom Kelley of the Freshman class. Likes to court the girls. Very particular. Goes out to C. I. A. for variety.

JOAN SCHEID

Pretty. Brown eyes. Has personality as well as looks. Has a mind as well as personality. Proves it by making good grades.

DEANE LOFTIN

Likeable. Unusually good looking. Quite brunette. Can really dance. Gets a swell rush as all the Girls' Tags.

HAZEL McKAUGHAN

Hails from Houston. Brought her big-town ways with her. Little sister to Lorene. Looks like her, too. Swell guy. Plenty of sense and a swell sense of humor.

What a lot of latent possibilities in the art of acting is stored up in FRED DAUGHTERY. With a little smoothing, and a more cultural atmosphere, we might produce a second Clark Gable right from our own campus.

Don't let that aimless, shambling walk of COTY BRADFORD'S fool you. He's merely doubling for Sherlock Holmes, and trying to keep you in the dark while he discovers the latest dirt. He's also a bear with a revolver (if it's not loaded) and the Women.

Ignorance is a thing to be shunned, but VERNAL COMPERE seems to brag that she's a perfect void. Could it be that she is trying to work a hoax on the unsuspecting public by pretending to be something that she's not?

That red-headed ARNOLD boy (whose real name is WILLIAM) is a dilly when it comes to cooking good tenderloin steaks. He not only knows all the answers, but the questions, too, and can he love 'em and leave 'em?

Can JERRY MENSHEW make those chocolate ice cream sodas, or can he? Have you ever wondered why Voertman's trade was mostly girls? Well, the secret is that when Jerry smiles—well, they come back and spend the other nickel.

Should EVA JOY TALLEY turn out to be the type of old maid school teacher that she once portrayed—well, heaven help this poor younger generation! But she couldn't very well because she's too much fun with an ice cream cone. She's not so crazy about jewelry, but just mention a blue diamond to her and watch her throw a hissy!

ELEANOR ESTES is another proof that preachers' children are swell. She has that "Keep your distance" look about her, that makes the opposite sex more curious. And she's also a Treasure as a Secretary.

ERMINE ARNOLD'S outstanding characteristic is Johnny Vitz. Together they make a swell pair. She is little, but—what is it about prize packages? When it comes to household problems Ermine knows all the right remedies because she's a Home Ec. major.

TRUETT MEREDITH owes his journalistic success to the fact that he never eats lunch until four o'clock in the afternoon. His temperament permits breakfast, and supper just before retiring, but noon-time is just one more hour to spend at his writing. Is success worth three hots to you?

The little girl who makes an awful lot of racket is ALPHA THETA CUMMINGS. Her weakness is coffee, and her strong suit is dancing. She has lots of faults, but few failings. Her most interesting attributes are her incessant line of chatter, and her room-mate, Mildred Graham.

BERT MOORE is one boy who rated a fraternity, and was not led by it. He is never in a hurry, but always dependable, especially if it is breaking dates. He has a right nice "How many please?" expression that makes every one want to come back.

Ask any of these dizzy femmes on the campus to point out the best looking member of the male species, and they will show you GRADY MAPLES, but that makes him no sissy! The boys can easily say that he was the best '33 Freshman on the campus, and those attributes make up the real campus hero.

When MARY WILLIS sends out that long, slow, appealing look from her brown eyes, and lets the lids droop just enough to be intriguing, if the answer is "No" then it's best never to look at her while trying to say it, because even Napoleon met his Waterloo.

A pencil behind one ear, a notebook always open, one ear greatly exaggerated for the purpose of hearing more scandal, and even a magnifying glass in his hip pocket—all of this points to the picture of BRYANT WILSON, news-hound de luxe.

The infallible JOE GUGENHEIM made the first recorded error in his English in a news story that was handed in to the Campus Chat on the sixth day of March, in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-four.

The Mrs. before Ann Yerby's name always does cause one to wonder, until Weldon is produced. Then the handle is quite fitting. Ann is the one who can out-Juliet Juliet, and she also acts the part of a Speech Major.

GEORGE MEDDERS looks like a banker, acts like a comedian on a holiday, and serves as the confidante of enough students of both sexes to be a combined dean of men and dean of women. He doesn't act, look, talk, or listen like a college professor—which is probably the reason that his classes are filled and closed before half the students who wish to enter them are enrolled.

VIRGINIA HAILE has about the prettiest profile on the campus. She has a weakness for teas—the pinker, the better. She can be haughty and disdainful, or quite the reverse, as the occasion demands. She is an English instructor who is not a fanatic on the subject. Also Yucca sponsor—and a better one couldn't be found.

W. H. BRUCE, whose middle name is Herschel mostly because he liked the sound of it, is the crankiest and the smartest man T. C. has ever known. He can see around the corner, and can tell you what he sees without trying to cram it down your throat. If you don't know him, you've missed half the education the college has to offer.

What this college would do without KATIE HENLEY is not a pleasant subject for thought. When anyone is in trouble, she is the first person who hears about it, and she usually knows the remedy. Her soft, even voice, her common-sense advice, her sincere interest in one's pleasures and woes, and her sympathetic smile make her the best President's secretary in the state.

F. M. DARNALL might well be pointed out as the aristocrat of the campus. He also likes to sit in on student bull-sessions, and is always welcome. He gives students credit for having a fair amount of intelligence and talks to them in their own language. His particular hobbies are his daughter Peggy, his dog, and his collection of beer-steins.

EDITH LANIER CLARK is one of the few deans of women who can claim the friendship of the entire student body. Her position is a difficult one, and the execution of her official duties could easily be misunderstood were she anyone other than herself. Gracious, pretty, poised, sweet, fun to talk to, always in a grand humor—what more could we ask?

When one of the highest I. Q.'s on the campus, an interesting personality, a great deal of sincerity, an explosive temper that is well controlled, and a swell guy, are rolled into one man you have J. R. SWENSON. When he teaches a class in astronomy the light of enthusiasm in his eyes makes you like it whether you are star-minded or not.

MAYDELL WALLACE likes to go places and meet people. And people like to meet her. She admits that bachelors, if they are extremely old, are interesting. When you want a book—whether it contains information on bee culture in Siberia or tabulated reports of the coal consumption in Borneo—and she can't find it . . . well, there just isn't any such book.

One Ex who will never be a has-been on this campus is MARYLEE HILL. Press night is never a complete success if she isn't here. Proof readers may flood the market, but T. C. publications will never find another one like her. She's a swell pinch-hitter and can always be depended upon to come to the rescue.

The garage down the main drag, the Pi Phi Pi's, and several girls on the campus just couldn't get along without CLARK BLACKBURN. A victim of the depression: a potential musician who has turned business man—and is making a go of it.

ANNA BELLE HERRON (Mrs. Eugene, to you) WILSON decided that marriage was preferable to a career. She's a blonde who has a red-headed sister and a black-headed brother. Plays a swell hand of bridge, but doesn't have time to do so very often—too busy taking care of friend husband.

ANDREW SWENSON . . . not so well known by that name, but everyone knows who "Swede" is. Hard to know intimately, but sought after by both sexes. Fun on a bull-session, and a good fellow. Incidentally, one of the best Chat editors for a "fur piece back."

MAURINE TIGNER still comes around occasionally. In case you're new this year, you'll know her by her smile—there's not another one like it. Usually found talking to Margaret Hays, or over at the Demon School. If at neither of these places, she can probably be found at Dyche's drinking coffee with the McKaughan sisters.

The famous T. C. atmosphere got BILL ARDIS too. He just can't stay away. If he isn't dancing on the stage show program he's up-town giving dancing lessons. Never misses a dramatic club production, even though he has to drive over from Fort Worth to see it.

MRS. HERSCHEL STEPHENS (remembered as Helen Anderson) was another of the so-called chumps. Married during the middle of last long term. Pretty. Not at all matronly. Rarely seen except at the Saturday night stage shows. Evidently a good cook—Herschel looks better fed.

The print shop misses JAKE PEARSON this year, even though he is on the campus now and then. Still the same big, silent brunette—you know the type. Serious most of the time, but when he does smile it's worth your time to be hanging around.

FONDELL WHITLEY comes from Pilot Point up the railroad track. Blonde and cute. One of the best dancers in the college. Does things up in fine style. Would rather dance than eat. Willowy form.

NORMA McMILLAN. Medium height. Black hair. Attractive. Loves gas and oil men from Wyoming. Must be tall and handsome and neither too dark nor too light. Must be middling. Has had Marvin Dillon and Pete Gates in a whirl.

FRED BUSH is another slighted in stature. Brother of the famous Guy. Tennis star. Quiet most of the time, but can raise the roof when necessary. Loafs in the men's lounge most of the time. Lives in Denton. Hair black and curly like Guy's.

VIRGINIA MARTIN. Won Parker County tennis championship when in high school at Weatherford. Second in Lubbock city championship. Swimmer. W. A. A. worker. Can do anything that any other girl can do—and more.

H. R. ELBERT. Freshman. Plays the saxophone in stage band. Razzed all the time. Talks like Joe Penner. Worst singer in college . . . and proves it often. Good sport. Plays with the kids in his back yard at the band house.

JUANITA HILL is a transfer from way out west—University of Southern California. Hails from Frisco. Black hair. Dark complexion. Theatre-minded: stage hand and actress. Has a charming voice and is wild about pajamas.

PEE WEE DAVIS still comes out on the small end in fights. Always razzing someone and usually gets licked for doing it, but can take it nicely. Considered by some people as "lovable and cute." Plays a clarinet.

PENNY ARCADE

JOHNNY MINGS. Beta Alpha Rho Beta organizer and president. Sings in Spanish chorus. Goes out to C. I. A. Can play any instrument he picks up—also a piano. Good member of quartet. Bolshevist. But a good fellow.

ELEANOR VAN NORMAN. Niece of J. E. Blair. Lives in Marshall. Strong on physical education. Does the hind end in the old Spark Plug dance. Bums around with Virginia Martin. Strong swimmer.

DELBERT PARNELL was a typical green frosh, but has cooled down a lot. Trojan. Once had a girl named Rosie. Can give punishment and take it. Crazy. According to one of his brother-Trojans he has trouble finding a date for a college shin-dig and never has any money.

CAROLEE BLACKBURN

Must have inherited her line of lingo from her big brother . . . however, hers is a more elevated level. As a Frosh essayist she really is a dilly and could easily pose as a Lamb, Jr.

JIM EMBRY'S

Favorite pastime is riding horses and talking at random about nothing. He hails from up St. Jo way—about two miles southwest of Mr. Price's place. He likes his coffee black, and his women—well, he likes his women.

WOODROW AVENT

Loves to ride in Katherine Medder's coupe. Outstanding in sophomore class. Friendly fellow and rather handsome. Has a lot of pep. Likes white uniforms—therefore—spends a lot of time out at C. I. A.

The BUSSARD TWINS

Are so much alike that Bob has to don his specks before you can tell the difference. They are likeable and interesting to talk to. From El Paso. Hobbies: Bob—Mary Frances Gardner and Elementary Education, and mimeographing. Jimmie—Sue Dillon and organ solos, and biology. Mutual interests: hopping tables and after-dinner stories.

GLADYS HARSHAW

Is one girl who is popular with boys and still liked by the rest of the girls on the campus. She is a Phys. Ed. major, a Green Jacket and a member of W. A. A. She has brown curly hair and a fascinating smile.

BURL ROGERS

Took Herbie Alfrey's place at Dyche's coffee urn. Has blonde curly hair, and is endowed with plenty of good common sense. Loves to dance and play bridge. Hobby: red-heads; present specialty: Lorene Lane.

ADDIE MILLICAN

Loves to cut up cats. Maybe that's because she's a biology major. Has nearly all A's, but very few people know it. Rather quiet. Very blond. Pretty blue eyes.

PAUL VANCE

Hails from way out west in New Mexico. Tall. Sociable. Will try anything once. He even reads proof for the Campus Chat occasionally. Good essay writer. Stays at the Gross House.

ELLEECE TAYLOR

Is particularly particular about the spelling of her name. Little but loud. Black eyes that flash fire. Good actress. Especially good as a stage-hand as evidenced by her work in "Three Cornered Moon."

LLOYD STOWERS

Sophomore this year but made Who's Who for debate. Brunette. Heavy set—one might say fat. Used to have time to write for the Avesta. Beta Alpha Rho Beta. One of the coming politicians. May be governor some day.

When you see a blonde walking down the drag in a new and different outfit almost every day it's bound to be ARNELLE BIGGS. She makes an uncomplaining errand-girl for her senior room-mate and the Yucca staff in general. A swell sport, who can give it and take it. Refuses dates just to see if the guy will call again—and he usually does.

The giggling gal from Mineral Wells is FERN FOREMAN. Her stories are always inclined toward the hair-raising type, and grow with each time they are repeated. It doesn't run in the family, though—she has a little sister whose pastime is reading the dictionary.

WILLIAM SHORT has a yen for chocolate pies and girls from Alvarado. He knows all the answers to the linotype machine, and his hobby is helping little girls who try to watch the wheels go round. Football, dancing, and bridge? Well, yes!

That absorbed look in KENNETH TYSON'S face isn't due to springtime, but to an obsession for the stars. He is a lad after Prof. Swenson's heart, because his interest in sun, moon, and stars is sincere. Timid, but a real guy.

FRANKLIN HERRON is a connoisseur of tenderloin steaks and blondes. As president of the Pi Phi Pi's he makes a swell chauffeur for the Hardy Pontiac. He is a much better dancer than bridger, but his real virtue is his ability to talk when he should have been listening.

PENNY ARCADE

For a mid-term entry into school, CATHERINE HAMILTON has gotten off to a fair start. Maybe the fact that she went to high school with Leroy Crouch has something to do with it, but not many people hold that against her. The secret of her success lies in the fact that she works in a boys' boarding house and can make such marvelous biscuits.

Sue's little brother, MARVIN DILLON, has also made his mark on the T. C. campus. He spends most of his idle moments at the Band House or out at C. I. A. It is rumored that he is a budding young poet, even if he does have to be his own audience most of the time. You'll know him by his mustache.

LOLA BELLE CURBO can give that innocent baby-blue-eyes stare so successfully that anyone would be fooled into believing that there's not a brain cell working . . . but what a surprise when she starts to talk. She knows the meaning of more big words than any one else in school even if she can't pronounce all of them.

ATKINS GAY typifies the West, from which he hails. He isn't susceptible to the wiles of the ordinary college gal, but prefers to go places either by himself or with some other strong, silent male. As for football and basket ball, he's a wow.

CYRENE BELL is that promising actress from Dallas who has a beau-lover named Ollie, and Ollie has a purple shirt. She has always done so well in her bit in each Dramatic Club production that the bit has turned into a real part. Loves to go places and meet people and do things.

R. L. MARQUIS
1880 - 1934

In the passing of Robert Lincoln Marquis, we who have followed his leadership are quick to recognize the loss of a great man from the front of our ranks. The College, which he helped to expand into a great institution, has lost a head whose influence will continue to live, not only in its material development, but also in the shaping of its policies and ideals. The state is deprived of a valued educator, and the teaching profession has lost a far-visioned idealist. He was a man tolerant and kind in his attitudes, broad in his sympathies, and, above all, courageous in spirit. Realizing that death might come at any moment, he "never turned his back; but marched breast forward," a gallant spirit to the last.

DEPARTMENT OF ART

CORA ELDER STAFFORD, M. A., DIRECTOR
MARJORIE PATCHELL, M. A.
KENNETH HUNT, M. A.
RUDOLPH FUCHS, M. A.
MARY LOUISE WILSON, B. S.

Because of the place of art in the enjoyable use of leisure, its economic value in the selection of appropriate and beautiful articles, its psychological value in the commercial field, and its growing importance in modern industry, art is a very necessary subject in the curriculum of the progressive school.

A major in art prepares students to become special teachers of art in the elementary grades or in the high school.

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY

B. B. HARRIS, PH. D., DIRECTOR
OLA JOHNSON, PH. D.
J. H. LEGGETT, B. S.
J. B. MCBRYDE, PH. D.

Biology is dedicating its efforts to the need of teaching the known, and discovering the new, laws of life, so that human beings may take their places happily and gainfully in this world of events.

Man is a fellow-passenger upon this globe with countless thousands of plant and animal forms; and biology, the science of life, in co-operation with the other sciences, instructs mankind how to behave in company with his fellow passengers.

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

W. A. LARIMER, M. A., DIRECTOR
A. A. MILLER, M. A.
TOM ROSE, M. B. A.
HILTON D. SHEPHERD, M. B. A.

Business Administration—primarily a vocational field—strives to bring to its students a better knowledge of the work-a-day world with its ideals and problems, the conduct of its affairs, the records it keeps, the machinery and methods used in administration, and a sympathy for and with those who have its many problems to face.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

W. N. MASTERS, M. S., DIRECTOR
ADDIE MAE CURBO, B. S.
L. P. FLOYD, M. S.
T. A. WILLARD, M. A.

To give a richer meaning to familiar forms of matter—the food which we eat, the water which we drink, the air which we breathe, and the earth on which we stand; to gain a better understanding of the transformations which are taking place within our bodies and all about us; to have a proper attitude toward the physical universe, the clods which lie at our feet, and the stars which appear in the sky—these are the cultural objectives of Chemistry.

DEMONSTRATION SCHOOL

LAWRENCE ALEXANDER	LULA K. SHUMAKER, M. A.
SHARP, Ph. D.	ANNIE MARY SPROUSE, M. A.
ANNA ALFORD, M. A.	MARGIE HELM STAFFORD, B. S.
CORRIE WALKER ALLEN, M. A.	EVA B. STAPLETON, M. A.
DOROTHY BABB, M. A.	LILLIAN O. WALKER, M. A.
ANNIE G. BRADLEY, B. S.	MARY LOUISE WILSON, B. A.
MARY RUTH COOK, M. A.	EPSIE YOUNG, M. A.
ALBERT SIDNEY KEITH, B. S.	CAROLINE CURRIE
HUGH MASTERS, M. A.	ROY REESE
PHOEBE GOODE MIZELL, M. A.	MABEL WILKERSON, B. S., B. S.
ANNABELLE McDONALD, M. A.

The Demonstration School is one of the divisions of the instructional service of the College. Its purpose is to afford the organization, control, and conduct of a model school. It further provides an opportunity for the college student to observe expert teaching and to have actual practice and experience in teaching under expert supervision and direction. In addition, it offers an opportunity for college students to make pupil diagnosis and to do remedial teaching.

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

W. JOSEPH McCONNELL, B. A., M. A., Ph. D., DIRECTOR
 ROSS COMPTON, B. A., B. S., M. A.
 JACK JOHNSON, B. S., M. A., Ph.D.

All normal human beings who live beyond the years of early childhood are confronted throughout the remaining period of their lives with social and economic problems of varying degrees of complexity. The solution of these problems, or the more disastrous results of failure to solve them, is inescapable. The Department of Economics seeks to set up criteria and to develop in the individual the ability to meet these problems.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

G. A. ODAM, PH. D., DIRECTOR

J. E. BLAIR, M. A.	A. G. KOENIG, M. S.
W. H. BRUCE, PH. D., LL. D.	CARL MATTHEWS, PH. D.
V. Y. CRAIG, PH. D.	CAROLYN McMULLAN, M. A.
HAROLD BRENHOLTZ, Ed. D.	ANNABELLE PRITCHARD, M. A.
NELLIE GRIFFITHS, M. A.	L. A. SHARP, PH. D.
OTHO HANSCOM, M. A.

No matter what a man may think, or what he may know, his value to society is nothing until he can pass his thoughts and his knowledge to those about him. The ability to teach depends upon a knowledge of human nature and the recognition of the law of individual differences. It is in the effort to develop this ability that the Department of Education has its existence.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

RAY COOKE STOKER, PH. D., DIRECTOR

E. C. BRODIE, PH. D.	B. E. LOONEY, M. A.
EDITH LANIER CLARK, M. A.	GEORGE MEDDERS, M. A.
MATTIE ELLA CRAVENS, M. A.	BESSIE SHOOK, M. A.
F. M. DARNALL, PH. D.	MAMIE SMITH, M. A.
NELLIE CLEVELAND, M. A.	MARY SWEET, M. A.
VIRGINIA HAILE, M. A.

A knowledge of what men have thought and felt and imagined about life is a guiding light to the understanding of our present existence. The end of all instruction in English, in a word, is to enable us to communicate our ideas clearly and effectively; to discover, through reading, how others have interpreted life in its various phases of emotional and intellectual experience, so that we may better understand our own experiences.

DEPARTMENT OF EXTENSION

J. E. BLAIR, M. A., DIRECTOR

The Department of Extension was organized to minister to the needs of that large number of teachers at work in the field who need and desire to extend their scholastic and professional equipment, but who do not see their way clear to give up teaching for a year to attend a teacher-training institution. Standards of qualifications of teachers are rapidly being raised, and the teachers who hope to stand in the front ranks of the profession must continue to study.

DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES

RUBY C. SMITH, PH. D., DIRECTOR

J. N. BROWN, M. A.

VIRGINIA CALLOWAY, M. A.

HENRY DANIELLEY, PH. D.

GEORGE HAMLETT, M. A.

P. E. McDONALD, M. A.

Without foreign languages, there is still too much that an English-speaking person does not know. He is dependent on others for a large part of his knowledge; and regardless of his ability, he must accept what others say.

With foreign languages, one can view the world more clearly; he can focus on the real meaning of words; he can tap the sources of ideas that have made and that will continue to make what we call civilization.

DEPARTMENT OF GOVERNMENT

J. W. PENDER, M. A., DIRECTOR
S. B. McALISTER, PH. D.

The Government Department is characterized by a hearty co-operation between the staff. Free and timely discussions are held and curricula and methods are mutually agreed upon. The work of the adviser is assumed by the head, the task being by no means burdensome. The members of the staff feel that, to the thoughtful, the necessity for an outstanding government department in a teacher-training institution is evident and unquestioned.

DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY

J. R. SWENSON, M. A., DIRECTOR
MARY JO COWLING, M. A.
C. L. POLLOCK, M. A.

Geography deals with the earth in its relation to mankind. The earth is considered as the planet that conditions man's existence, the storehouse of his raw material, the workshop of his industry, and the playground of his leisure. It correlates with most other sciences, physical, biological, and social. Nothing in the heavens above or on the earth below is really foreign to Geography. It tends to make man the master of his environment, instead of its slave.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

L. W. NEWTON, PH. D., DIRECTOR

C. A. BRIDGES, M. A.

E. H. FARRINGTON, M. A.

J. L. KINGSBURY, PH. D.

ANNA POWELL, PH. D.

CORA BELLE WILSON, M. A.

In a world where material things and materialistic ideas very largely engage one's attention, the study of history in only its romantic and colorful aspects would probably be justified. A knowledge of the history of the more important social groups now existing in the world will furnish an excellent background for, and a means of a broader interpretation of, any of the other school subjects.

DEPARTMENT OF HOME ECONOMICS

RUTH LEHMAN, M. A., DIRECTOR

JESSIE ACKER, M. A.

REBECCA MAE JOHNSTON, M. A.

LOIS PEARMAN, M. A.

MURIEL C. WILLIAMS, M. A.

VERA McNAIR, M. A.

The Home Economics department realizes that home-making is far from being simply cooking and sewing, and that teachers of home-making need broad training. The work of the department, therefore, ranges from the development of specific techniques to the application of science, art, and economics in the solution of home problems, and finally to the consideration of the very human problems represented by the nursery school, and the study of family relationships.

HOSPITAL

L. O. HAYES, M. D.
NINA PREUSS, R. N.
ANNIE RICHKICH, R. N.
CLEMENTINE GRUSENDORF

The hospital is new and up-to-date in every way. It serves the student body twenty-four hours of the day, never ceasing to administer medical aid to those in need of it. Dr. Hayes is capably supported by a staff of two registered nurses who are on duty at the hospital throughout the day. Medical advice and treatment are given free of charge.

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

H. J. P. VITZ, M. A., DIRECTOR
S. A. BLACKBURN, PH. D.
J. D. HALL, B. A.

Industrial Education stimulates and quickens the intellect by the use of mechanical tools. The skilled hand confers benefits upon man, and each benefit so conferred exerts the natural moral influence of a good act upon the mind of the benefactor. The work in Industrial Education prepares teachers of power to guide young people in their manual activities so as to develop to the fullest extent those moral, intellectual, and social values so desirable in citizenship.

LIBRARY

PEARL McCracken, M. A.
ELAINE ADAMS, B. A.
LOTTIE BRASHEARS, B. S.
LUCILE CRUTCHER
LOIS B. KNOX, B. S.
ROBERTA MOSS, B. A.
MARY SWINDLE
MAYDELL WALLACE, B. A.

The library not only furnishes an almost unlimited supply of books on a wide scope of subjects, but also offers opportunity for guided research, supervised study, and quiet concentration.

It is in the hands of trained and efficient librarians who, at all times, offer their expert aid and their sympathetic supervision to all comers.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

AMOS BARKSDALE, M. A., DIRECTOR
MYRTLE BROWN, M. A.
T. E. PETERS, M. A.
RUTH STOKES, PH. D.

Twenty-five centuries of research have piled high the treasures of the Kingdom of Mathematics and there are yet uncharted realms waiting for the explorer. One who—unafraid—delves into its mysteries has an opportunity for real study and advancement. The mathematician may be called a magician “whose wand creates the marvelous and whose penetrating eye searches the hidden corners of the universe.”

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

LILLIAN PARRILL, B. Mus., DIRECTOR
FLOYD GRAHAM, B. Mus.
MARY ANDERSON, M. Mus.
GLADYS KELSO, B. Mus.

It is said that man has a three-fold nature: physical, intellectual, and spiritual: body, mind and soul. The body is governed by physical existence; the mind by thought and reason; the soul, through moods and emotion. Music satisfies the deep feelings that stir one while sad or happy, and enables one to rise above his every-day self into a realm of pure thought, happiness, sympathy or aspiration, bringing him back better able to perform his work in the world.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS

L. L. MILLER, M. A., DIRECTOR

The application of the laws of Physics to music, to architecture, and to the construction of machinery makes the study of Physics one of supreme importance to everyone. Since one's concepts are based largely on what he sees and hears, and his judgments are determined principally by his interpretations of physical phenomena and laws, the study of Physics is a dominant factor in the development of a comprehensive philosophy of life.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

THERON J. FOUTS, M. A., DIRECTOR
DONNIE COTTERAL, M. S.
BEULAH HARRISS, M. A.
JACK SISCO, B. B. A.
CHARLES SPORTSMAN, B. S.
JOANNA T. DYER, M. A.

Mens sanus in capore sano has been the cry of departments of physical education everywhere. It has been proved that only a sound mind can exist in a sound body, and the Department of Physical Education not only instructs prospective coaches and physical education directors, but is a plant for the maintenance of the physical equipment of the individual students of the College.

PLACEMENT BUREAU

E. H. FARRINGTON, M. A.

The Placement Bureau has the two-fold function of assisting public schools in getting in contact with the teachers trained in this institution and in assisting students and ex-students in securing teaching positions in which they can best work. In addition, it follows up students who have gone out from the institution to see how well they may be serving the public schools and to assist them in securing promotions when such are due. The office is open throughout the year.

DEPARTMENT OF SPEECH

OLIVE M. JOHNSON, M. A., DIRECTOR
MYRTLE HARDY, M. A.

Shakespeare said "It is not enough to speak, but to speak true." We are told that the father of Woodrow Wilson "believed that nobody had grasped a thought until he could put it quickly and definitely into words. This he did himself and this he taught his son to do."

To become a great speaker is to become to some degree a leader. It is increasingly evident that the principles of public speaking are the principles of influence. To interest, to inform, to convince and to persuade—these are the purposes of the speaker.

TEXTBOOK LIBRARY

W. W. WRIGHT, CUSTODIAN

The Textbook Library supplies the textbooks required by the twenty-three instructional departments of the college. It furnishes textbooks for the extension classes, the practice teaching classes, and some to the Reserve Library. Discontinued books are sold and the funds replaced in the textbook account.

Other business handled through this department is the rental of the caps, gowns, and hoods, the rental of locks, and the receiving and sending out of shipments of parcel post and express.

Needs No Machinery

ELECTROLUX THE GAS REFRIGERATOR

Thanks to a pair of young students who worked out the principle in a college laboratory, you can freeze desserts without machinery. Have you seen the Gas Refrigerator that runs with just a tiny flame?

It operates in the country too, with STARGAS.

Municipal  Gas Company

We hope you've liked it
